will be repeated, and thus afford the public an opportunity of seeing that imposing display.

A chorus of many singers, including the celebrated Arioso Society, an orchestra of fifty professors, corps de ballet, and four hundred girls.

The stage has been arranged on an entirely new principle, increasing the breadth and height of the new scenery to nearly double its former dimensions. Three magnificent scenes have been added, and the entire stage is covered with a floor of tiles, which have been expressly made on the original Parisian pattern. The different processions and tableaux will comprise about 400 persons, dressed in the richest robes and costumes ever exhibited in this country, including the robes of state of the Emperor, the Queen, and the Imperial family, the robes of the various regiments, the uniforms of the army, the dresses of the ladies, and the various details to those worn in the twelfth century and are the only ones that have ever been imported in America.

ADMIRAL DIXON, DOLLAR & PARTS.

To be sold at the Ticket Office, Hotel, and Music Rooms.

A great crowd being expected, ladies are particularly requested to buy their tickets in advance. They may be had at all the principal ticket-offices, principal music-stores and hotels, and in Brooklyn at the Opera House, Hotel, and Music Rooms.
